WILCOX & GIBBS SEWING MACHINE.

We would call attention to the following facts in connection with this Machine which renders it superior to any other in use:
It forms a flat elastic seam, which will not rip in wear.
It is entirely noiseless.
A patent Clutch prevents its being turned backward;
The needle cannot be set wrong;
Can be used successfully without other instructions than accompany the Machine;
It received the Gold Medal of the American Institute in 1863. For particulars enquire of

Letter from Puget Sound

OVER ON THE SOUND, Aug. 27, 186[illegible]

ITEM OR IDEA.

Did I or did I not promise to send you an [illegible] or [illegible] item? Did I or did I not furthermore promise that in case of total dearth of items I [illegible] you such and whatever ideas I might find floating around in my brain that might be useless to me. Item or idea? Either, both, or neither. Now my experience as a correspondent has long since taught me that an item is a sweet morsel to a newspaper stomach if it is new and sugar coated with a wonder raising introduction and finaled with an instructive and improving moral. An item without any of these qualities is flat, stale and profitless even as beer which hath been drawn since last week. I am fearful that were I to attempt the item line in this letter I should get decidedly into the week [illegible] old beer line.

As to ideas. He who writes a letter with nothing in it but ideal might have been a successful correspondent at some remote period of antiquity when the human family was a very infantile man and woman, or he might possibly suit some possible generation yet in the womb of the future when facts and figures shall be abolished and the world shall fatten imaginative manna and ideal pork and beans; but he won't do and his letter of ideas, dished up by themselves, won't go down in this material and matter-of-fact year of our Lord 1865. I put down the age of our world since the Master, in figures to show my *apprec*tion of figures and to illustrate my want of appreciation of that poetic, and therefore imaginative style which writes it out in the vernacular, [illegible] thousand eight hundred and so many," and as having a more business like air. I shall not attempt the idea line. As I go on I may make an humble effort to produce a happy blending of the two, but I make no pledges. As a politician I found years ago, that pledges are very troublesome articles and ought to be used very sparingly.

AN ITEM, NOT ALTOGETHER NEW.

One of the subjects of popular discourse over on the Sound, is the claim of the Hudson's Bay Company and Puget Sound Agricultural Company against the United States. While the Commissioners of the United States and Great Britain are discussing this little item of nearly eight hundred thousand dollars, in the unsettled accounts between the aforesaid United States and Great Britain in the saloons at Washington (this, a pleasant fiction of course), the U. S. Attorney, late of the Breckinridge Convention of seceders, is probably (?) with much diligence trying to smoke out the exact state of facts in smoking cap and slippers ensconced in his comfortable library "down East" in the very literary city of Boston; the sub-Attorney of the United States of the Johnson family, the sub-Attorney of Great Britain, and all the little and under subr employees and sub-employees, servants and sub servants, of the Hudson Bay Company, and of the Puget Sound Agricultural Company, which is a sub of the Hudson Bay Company, are bestirring themselves, the former at Victoria, the whole rabble of the latter, all over this Territory and all along up and down the Sound, to procure such evidence as shall set the whole matter in such a decided muddle that even lawyers and politicians and diplomats can't see through it; and then somebody is expected to guess a price, about which he knows nothing; and then another somebody, who knows nothing about the matter, is expected as a matter of course, to object, then the business [illegible] awhile in a greater muddle than before, when another [illegible] to see a point which all parties are anxious to see and to come at then more muddle and finally a declaration in the newspapers that the United States has got the better of Great Britain about $250,000, and has purchased the rights, titles and interests of the Hudson Bay and the Puget Sound Agricultural Companies, for the moderate sum of $550,000, when there is not a private [illegible] in this country knowing the whole country, but knows the whole patch of land north of the Columbia, together with all the appurtenances thereunto belonging, (in the right of [illegible]) to be worth less than the expense of settling their claims. The Olympia Tribune is publishing, in weekly instalments, an expose of the falsity, or [illegible] the false value placed on these claims. The rest of the papers over here have too much "laws" wherewith to fill their columns, at so many greenbacks per square, to be able to say much about the "swindle," as it is familiarly [illegible] In connection with this matter, "now and then," has a curious illustration in the proceedings of one of the distinguished companies. Some days months or years ago, it matters not which, in one of the counties not a thousand miles from either Victoria or Olympia, the H. B. or the P. S. A. Co. it matters not which, had a claim to an extensive tract of land, which tract came within the greedy cognisance of the official [illegible] of said county, who had found it somewhat difficult to find taxable property wherefrom to raise the expenses of their [illegible] province. The officials who thought there ought to be no representation without taxation, [illegible] the common rate against the H. B. claimants, whereupon the aforesaid distinguished managing agent brought his person in propinquity with the venturesome officials of the law, and solemnly [illegible] having any ownership either in or for himself or for anybody else, of the aforesaid real estate. Some people say that he asseverated this testimony with uplifted [illegible], and that, [illegible] a certain sharp practitioner has [illegible] a certain document for "obvious [illegible]," the sub counsel for the U. S. can find in the recorded proceedings of the aforesaid county [illegible], a very damaging [illegible] of evidence [illegible] put in now for the same tract of [illegible]. Be this as it may, the claim is a preposterous one, whether or not the Commissioners can prevail in seeing it in that light.

AN IDEA NOT ALTOGETHER NEW.

Considering the very decided and fraternal interest which Johnny Bull has manifested in our commercial and whaling prosperity by fitting out the philanthropic expeditions of the Alabama and Shenandoah against our adventuring ships, would it not be eminently just to offset this Hudson's Bay and Puget Sound Agricultural claims against the Alabama and Shenandoah indebtedness of J. B. & Co. and then if we should, in the future have any further settlement with J. B. to start in with the understanding that so many dollars had already been entered to his credit! Mark me I do not claim for this idea either originality or the characteristic of statesmanship. For statesmanship it is too short a process and withal, too straightforward.

WHAT I DID, AND WHAT I WON'T.

I did intend in the next few lines to give you an item and an idea combined, but upon a close inspection I find they are not fitted for each other's intimate companionship, and I won't run the risk of spoiling one by mixing it with the other. Moreover I think it would be not a bad idea to sign myself hereabout. In my next you will hear from me again. Meantime be of good cheer.

OLTIGO.

NOT QUITE SO FOND OF ANDY. A very perceptible change has come over Democratic opinion regarding President Johnson, within the last few days. It is clear that Democrats don't think any thing like as much of him as they did. A short time ago they hardly knew how to be sweet enough to him, while now they can't even speak of him with decent respect. The Democratic organ in this city, which a few days ago published Charles Mason's eulogy on Johnson with every mark of approval, has since since published Emerson Etheridge's ferocious attack upon him with equal show of favor. We apprehend that Democrats have by this time generally [illegible] the Democratic National Committee of Washington [illegible] humbug and Charles Mason its chairman [illegible] Andy must certainly have done something to [illegible] them. What is the matter [illegible]

A RIVAL OF THE [illegible] SAHANA.—The [illegible] war steamer [illegible] from San Francisco [illegible] 13th inst. in search of the [illegible] anchored in Esquimalt harbor yesterday morning. She leaves this morning—destination uncertain but probably for the Sandwich Islands. Her armament consists of two rifle guns, 30 pounders, eight 68 pounders, one 11 inch pivot gun and is 1000 horse power. As was stated a few days since she left Acapulco on the 30th July, same day as the British war vessel Devastation, which is on the way to this port direct and may be hourly expected.—Victoria Colonist.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

FRIDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 1, 1865

Consolidation and State Rights

S[illegible] lacks information as to the [illegible] read a certain class [illegible] the exclusion of their [illegible] knowledge in public [illegible] being [illegible] paid and for supposing that the rights of the States had all been swept away and that instead of the mixed system which the founders of the Republic instituted we have now a strong central Government, all of whose affairs great and minute are under the direction of a single despotic head. If we consider the matter as it is, and grant at the same time that those who struggle so vehemently for the imaginary rights of States are in earnest, we shall find ourselves puzzled to know what is the occasion of all this uproar and what its inciters do really mean. But if we look at the matter in its proper light we shall at once detect the purpose of the authors of all this noise. The doctrine which they so pertinaciously insist upon was shrewdly invented for partisan purposes a long time ago, and it is still maintained not for the sake of any real principle but for the same end for which it was originally devised. These States are as far from consolidation as they were forty years ago, and all the rights which they ever justly claimed are assured to them now. We trust we shall be pardoned for suggesting to those who see nothing but tyranny, oppression and arbitrary conduct on the part of those who now administer the Government, that the boundaries of the several States have not yet been obliterated, that their Legislatures have not yet been turned out of doors and kicked to the dogs by the central power, that State laws have not been declared abolished, and that State officials do yet retain and exercise their legitimate powers. Accordingly, we must be permitted to remind our croaking friends that we and they still live under a constitutional Government, and that they and their liberties are not yet in quite so much danger as their frequent forebodings might lead us to believe.

But we are told that the rights of the States are encroached upon. How, and by what power? What right did Oregon or New York, or even Louisiana—except when she tried to secede—ever claim that either of these States does not already possess? And where is the danger, or even the indication that the States are to lose their autonomy and identity and pass entirely under the control of a consolidated central power? There is absolutely none. The agitators who assert there is take counsel of folly rather than of reason.

The teachers of the false doctrine of State rights upbraid New England as the section from which opposite ideas come. Now it is an invincible fact that in no other part of the Union is there so strong an adherence to the true theory of State rights, as exists in the extreme Eastern States. De Tocqueville and other observers have remarked upon this circumstance, and have shown that New England is so constituted that she will offer a more determined resistance to the active encroachments of the central power, than would be met in any other quarter of the Union. When there is real danger of the subversion of the State governments by that of the United States at large, New England will be found the champion of local rights. So far, the General Government has not been aggressive, and New England has not perceived any danger to State rights in the course it has taken.

That peculiar doctrine of State rights which is intended merely as a political quirk and as a subterfuge for traitors has just about lost all the potency it ever possessed. State rights properly expounded, are still intact, and though we may not soon hear the last of the ululations of those who persist in bawling against "consolidation" when there is not the slightest danger of such a result, it will at least be a long time before we shall witness the fulfillment of their predictions about the conversion of our Government into a "despotism."

THE HUMILITY OF ENGLAND.—The subserviency of England to France is as abject as it is complete. Britain's ascendency is gone. She is not now the England that won Crecy, Agincourt, Blenheim and Waterloo. France and herself have exchanged positions. England stands in awe of the dynasty whose founder her gold overthrew. The leading power in Europe is no longer England but France, and the former is now, and for years has been a sort of political appendage to the latter, claiming indeed an independent existence but in reality no more directing her own policy, shaping her own course or controlling her own movements and destiny, than does the shadow which is compelled to follow implicitly the substance that creates it and gives it form.

England exhausted herself to put down the first Napoleon, and though she succeeded, the effort so enfeebled her that she has been incapable of performing any great undertaking since that day. The martial power of France, it is true, was broken down half a century ago, but she has now regained all, and more than her former vigor. Her loss was in men. These, in the next generation or two, were restored. England's loss was in money, and it was wholly irreparable, so enormous was the sum. By industry and activity she succeeds in sustaining the load of her indebtedness but no other power must jostle her lest she be overthrown. The condition of her people is such that she cannot stop a moment to offer any opposition, or even to make a protest against the aggrandizing and intrusive schemes of her neighbors, and hence she must be content to witness the consummation of the plans of her old rival across the Channel, and quietly submit to the fulfillment of the ambitious aims of the Emperor, since she is quite too feeble to attempt to defeat them.

The American, as well as the European policy of England, is entirely under the dictation of France. The Emperor led Her Majesty's Government into the scheme against Mexico, the object of which coalition was a desire on the part of Napoleon to overawe the United States with so great a display of military power as to cause this country to hesitate in protesting against so imposing a movement. After the Emperor had used the British Government sufficiently long to enable him to effect a permanent lodgment in Mexico, England was dismissed without reward, and the august despot kept the field all to himself. The lion and his weaker allies went out hunting game and when they overtook their quarry, the more powerful member of the party appropriated the whole booty as his own. France and England entered jointly upon the Mexican scheme, and France bears off the entire prize.

The British Government could not so much as revoke her act granting belligerent rights to those engaged in the great American rebellion without consulting France thereupon. This revocation was demanded by our Government and Russell has to tell Seward that he was under the necessity of consulting France before he could comply. Surely the shame of England is complete. Her glory has departed. The dynasty founded by the despised plebeian of Corsica numbers among its dependents the present rulers of that proud line which traces its ancestry through a decade of centuries back to the Conqueror, and which less than three score years ago disdainfully refused to offend the extreme fastidiousness of its haughty royalty by acknowledging the great Emperor who could not boast of the nobility of the race from which he sprung to be the equal of the crowned monarchs whom he led over Europe, not by their merit, but as they claimed by the divine right of kings. The influence of England in the affairs of the world is now of no consequence. The Emperor whom she imprisoned, is now, as he so prophetically foretold, fully avenged.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO AUGUST 29

Texas and Mexico

NEW YORK, August 29.—The Tribune's Brownsville correspondent, under date of August 11, says this evening Senor Robles, Mexican Minister of Public Works, was over the river on a visit and was received by General Steele, who gave the distinguished visitor a quiet dinner at Villa[illegible]. Among the guests were Generals Weitzel and [illegible]. After a pleasant repast, at which friendly sentiments were exchanged, the party broke up, Senor Robles recrossing the river. Senor Robles and General Ortega are said to be on their way here to visit the distinguished [illegible] Generals. [illegible] nothing, [illegible] is done on the Rio Grande. All is quiet along the river at present.

The Herald's Vera Cruz correspondent, under date of the 14th, says 800 men have arrived with [illegible] and are maintaining the [illegible] of Slavery, which is [illegible] difficult [illegible] A force of 200 Austrians [illegible] marched from Orizaba with the intention of whipping them, but fell into an ambush on the road and were forced to take to flight, leaving thirty dead on the field. A few days since the Austrians met with another reverse north of Puebla, in which, according to the City of Mexico papers, a colonel of infantry and fifty Austrians fell victims to the ferocity of the Republicans.

A perusal of the newspapers of this country will show that in addition to the execution decreed by court martial, encounters are almost daily taking place between the Imperialists and Republicans, in which the losses in killed alone range from 10 to 100 or more on each side.

The Freedmen.

The Herald's Washington correspondent says Thomas, Assistant Commissioner of Freedmen in Mississippi, writes under date Aug. 15th that out of 34,600 Freedmen in the State, only 1,600 are subsisted by the Government. The farms are reported to be doing finely. As harvest time approaches the help which has been afforded them by the Government is being gradually withdrawn. About 10,000 bales of cotton will be produced by those of the negroes that have undertaken the culture of that staple. In the interior the corn crops are looking most promising. The major part of the Freedmen who contracted for their labor are working well and getting better pleased with their condition. The more intelligent people are represented as willing to assist in developing the new order of things, but cannot be made to see the feasibility of projects calculated to secure the independence and success of the freedmen.

The Finances.

A special dispatch to the Times says: We learn authoritatively that the financial condition of the Government is easy and that the Secretary will be enabled to meet all demands with the means he has at command. No statement of the public debt will be made on the first of September, nor will there be a statement hereafter oftener than once in six months, so that next statement of the public debt will appear October 1st.

The China Mails.

The Postmaster General has accepted the tenders of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company for a mail steamship line between San Francisco and China via Honolulu, Sandwich Islands, authorized by the act of Congress approved February 12th, 1865.

The tender of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, was the only one received for the services. The compensation therefor is a half million of dollars per annum for the performance of twelve round trips between San Francisco and Hong Kong, touching at Honolulu and Kanagawa. The company are to build for the service four first class American side-wheel steamers of from 3,600 to 4,000 tons burthen each, Government measure, to be constructed of the best materials and after the most approved model, with all the modern improvements adapted to sea going steamers of the first class. The first steamer is to leave San Francisco with the mails for Japan and China, on or before the 1st of January, 1867. The term of contract is to be ten years from the date of the sailing of the first steamer from San Francisco.

Railroad Bridge at Richmond Burned.

NEW YORK, August 29.—The Tribune's special dispatch says that the Petersburg railroad bridge spanning the James river at Richmond was destroyed by fire on the 3d of April last. It will soon be replaced by a new and substantial structure.

Death of Governor Brough of Ohio

CLEVELAND, August 29.—Governor Brough, of Ohio, died in this city this [illegible] at one o'clock.

Cuban News.

HAVANA, Aug 11th. The steamer Little Hattie, formerly a blockade runner, will soon leave for Rio Janeiro under the command of Capt. Blanche, who commanded the notorious Denbigh.

It is generally thought that if General Hougan [illegible] takes the place of General Dulce, as Captain General of the Island, the African slave trade will commence with renewed vigor.

The Spanish mail steamer has not yet arrived. It is reported that she was seized at Samana by the revolutionists of Hayti, who knew the Spaniards had evacuated the Island and that the steamer would touch there. A large party of them in schooners, under the English flag, sailed to that place and made the seizure.

A disturbance occurred on board the English steamer Florida in which several negroes were stabbed and one killed.

The cooperage shops of Axiellis & Sallance with a large quantity of sugar and molasses were recently destroyed by fire. Loss, $150,000.

Bad State of Things in Texas.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug 29.—Texas advices report the frontier in worse condition than ever before.

The Austin and San Antonio papers are filled with accounts of outrages by Indians and highway robberies. Steps will be taken by the military to afford protection to the frontier. The condition of the blacks, with a few exceptions, is represented as satisfactory.

The worm continues its ravages in the cotton of the lower counties.

At a public meeting of citizens of six counties, resolutions were passed accepting the situation and pledging their support to the National Government and Governor Hamilton; they also acknowledged the abolition of slavery.

A Tennessee Official Asked to Resign.

NASHVILLE, August 29.—Horshell, Speaker of the House of Representatives, has been invited to resign by a meeting of citizens of Knoxville for his opposition to the Franchise bill.

Jeff Davis' Forthcoming Trial.

WASHINGTON, August 29.—The trial of Jeff Davis will take place before a United States Court, but what the particulars are has not yet been designated. There seems to be no importance attached to the fact that the Grand Jury of the District of Columbia some months since found a true bill against him for constructive treason in sending troops to operate against Washington in the summer of 1864. The Grand Jury of Knoxville, Tennessee, has indicted him for treason. It is probable the trial will take place in Norfolk, Va., in which event Chief Justice Chase will preside, as that State is embraced in the judicial circuit assigned to him.

The South Carolinians Whine About Their Losses

NEW YORK, Aug 30.—The Herald's Charleston correspondent of the 26th says: Recently there have been arrivals from the interior of a large stock of cotton and considerable number of planters. The business of the city has experienced a very encouraging revival. The planters are loud with complaints that since the colored people have been emancipated they have generally deserted the plantations and cannot be induced to work except under compulsion of the military. In consequence of this indolent disposition of the negroes the planters say that the cotton and corn crops of the State won't give but little more than half their ordinary yield. It is said that through the havoc and repudiation consequent upon the rebellion and its failure and from the emancipation of the slaves, the slave property in South Carolina, which was worth four hundred millions in 1860, has been reduced to fifty millions in 1865.

The test oath required by act of Congress of 1862 of all persons entering upon the duties of United States offices had given rise to considerable discussion [illegible]

[illegible] Perry while at Washington was given a list of the various vacant Federal offices in South Carolina and requested to nominate suitable persons to fill them. The Governor's appointments are with but one or two exceptions ineligible in consequence of having held office under the Davis rule.

THE CHINESE.—We publish the following extract from [illegible] of Hon. Frank [illegible] before the Mechanics' [illegible] of San Francisco, as every word of it will apply [illegible] to the condition of matters in Portland at this [illegible]. The speaker remarked that he was in favor of ex[cluding] [illegible] a race of [illegible] vulgarly called Ch[inese] [illegible] from our shores. Here is the synopsis. This views [illegible] "In my opinion, the evils to be anticipated from Chinese [illegible] outweigh all the benefits [illegible] we are prudent to advance [illegible] of the moral welfare [illegible] I am prepared [illegible] certain classes of the Chinese [illegible] laborers, and [illegible] and low [illegible] as hurtful and [illegible] their women, their gamblers [illegible] our towns and villages [illegible] whose existence in the very heart [illegible] they have been industriously [illegible] of prejudice, and with flowing [illegible] the habits of civilized [illegible] their great wall of Chinese [illegible] the law and forms of Egypt [illegible] our shores [illegible] of the gold which is the inheritance [illegible] bring their own supplies [illegible] to our lands, they speak in their language [illegible] they do not attend our schools and bring [illegible] their youth who might [illegible] our people they are [illegible] and cannot mingle with us. They [illegible] bring with them the graven images [illegible] our Christian churches [illegible] and practice their heathen [illegible] the land of China [illegible] and in their place [illegible] from their seaports [illegible] the skill of [illegible] in the midst of our streets, in the presence [illegible] they practice with shameful [illegible] their loose arts of [illegible] the opium-eater, the debased [illegible] abandoned women, and make night hid[eous] with the insane revelings of the intoxicated madness of their strange excitement.

[illegible] to their demoralized [illegible] have none of their [illegible] but the ingenuity to make [illegible] brandy of the best poison [illegible] from one mine to another [illegible] they import and sell goods [illegible] to the injury of our [illegible] any part of the [illegible] import their rice [illegible] but make no effort to cultivate our lands [illegible] import their sugar [illegible] [illegible] to society [illegible] of the State, are a curse [illegible] community and [illegible] by a patient people [illegible] vague belief, that [illegible] of some treaty between the [illegible] of China and the Government of the United [illegible] conflict with some clause of [illegible] the United States.

[illegible] that, as a sovereign State, we [illegible] this evil, and put an end to [illegible] quarantine [illegible] contagion and disease [illegible] the right to prevent persons [illegible] tainted with infectious disease [illegible] prevent the spread of pestilence [illegible] to encourage commerce and [illegible] interfere with any laws of Congress for [illegible] our State to be inundated with this [illegible].

[illegible] preventing the introduction of licen[tious] paintings, articles of gaming [illegible] preparations of gunpowder and [illegible] and yet we may not be permitted, in the [illegible] same power, to exclude a class of humanity [illegible] immoral gambling and dangerous [illegible] by the State laws, throw overboard from [illegible] such goods as are hurtful to our health [illegible] to our morals, and yet a ship comes into [illegible] loaded down with Chinese prostitutes, reeking [illegible] sticking with strange odors, rotting with [illegible] and they must be admitted as a part and [illegible] the community; we must mix and mingle with [illegible] from the same markets, traverse the same [illegible] the same atmosphere.

[illegible] exact laws to prevent their women and their [illegible] coming to our shores; and if for a time [illegible] their industrious laborers to find a home [illegible] it should only be because they are useful to [illegible] my concern none of the race should be born [illegible]. Thus if their numbers ever become em[barrassing] we could legislate against them, and the evil [illegible] with the generation."

COMPLIMENTARY EXCURSION—MOUNT [illegible].—The road [illegible] the face of the hill at the head of Lincoln and [illegible], formerly known as Robinson Hill, is now [illegible], and the first team and carriage made the as[cent] [illegible] evening, conveying four passengers: Mr. [illegible] owner of the road, Mr. A. C. R. Shaw, com[missioner of] construction on the part of the State; Mr [illegible] and the OREGONIAN reporter. The drive [illegible] base of the hill, a distance of 2550 feet, to a height of 317 feet, was accomplished with [illegible] safety in twelve minutes. Arriving at [illegible] three cheers were given for Mr. An[illegible] success of his enterprise, those whom we [illegible] joining in the hurrah. ROCKY BAR, SOUTH BOISE, Aug [illegible]

It is [illegible] climate [illegible] station to come from [illegible] here. We left [illegible] on horseback [illegible] and made the thirty five miles to Rocky Bar early in the after[noon]. Much of the road was very pleasant to travel over, the country being mostly rolling hills and pleasant vales with quite a deep and steep descent into the valley of South Boise river which was a hard [illegible] ten miles travel [illegible] ledge or two and [illegible] cattle and [illegible] by the way. We killed three rattle snakes [illegible] We noticed them [illegible] them. We traveled up the [illegible] miles, then turned up Lincoln Creek, just where we approached what I was assured were very rich placer mines. [illegible] pleasant until we were very near our destination. We had ridden over a good [illegible] about two miles, I think, to Rocky Bar, where we [illegible] which the [illegible] over a [illegible]. We [illegible] creek here some [illegible] which several mills are now being erected. Following [illegible] creek, rounding a point and riding up Bear creek about one mile, past several arrastras, some of which were running and some idle, we came to Rocky Bar, popularly and properly called, though I think the place pretends to claim the name of Esmeralda.

THE COUNTY SEAT OF ALTURAS.

Rocky Bar is in reality a very thriving and good looking village, made up of the usual number of stores, offices, saloons and restaurants to the number of about twenty I think, though there does not seem to be great stir of business in the place. The place where the town is, is rightly enough named "Rocky Bar." It is at the confluence of two narrow mountain gorges affording a bench or bar of about six rods in width, where the city of Esmeralda is being built. What just Bear creek is to play in the future can hardly be surmised—just at present it is in a low state of mind and easily managed. That is it manages to squeeze through the burgh, sometimes running on one side and sometimes on the other, occasionally running under the houses and no doubt engaging the anticipation of a spring freshet when it can put on a few airs, and run through or over them at its pleasure. The hills that wall in "Esmeralda" rise in frowning perpendicularity on either side. The town resembles a photographic gallery because it has a splendid sky light. The sun gets up and about at his leisure in this vicinity, makes a morning call at about ten a. m., looks about town and heats up the rocks and houses until about the middle of the afternoon, when he goes over the western hills and shuts the door after him in good season to give the rocks, people and houses time to cool off which some of the people do by drinking whiskey, sometimes until Sol makes his to-morrow morning call. There is an immensity of timber growing through these mountains, and several of the streams afford excellent water powers. Many arrastras were running last Summer but most of them are idle now, for what reason I cannot tell. Some are still at work, though with what success I cannot learn.

After traveling through the uninhabited country which one traverses to get here, it is comfortable to find a good, cleanly restaurant, where a Frenchman gets up superior food, as is the case at Rocky Bar. Rocky Bar is not a rough place, if one doesn't take the earth, air or water into consideration. True, those few unimportant articles are not essential. They figure somewhat in the tout ensemble, to be sure, but the houses are the [illegible] thing and these are respectable, so much so that some of them have had their faces newly washed and freshened with a coat of paint.

A MOURNFUL EVENT.

We noticed the National flag at half mast as we entered the place and were told that the citizens mourned the death of Horatio Jones, Esq., for a long time connected with Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express on the Columbia river, and very generally known. He is universally mourned here and a deep feeling of sadness pervades the place on account of his untimely end. His disease was congestive chills. His family and friends in Portland will feel gratified to know that he had many friends here who sincerely feel his loss. He seems to have singularly won upon the general esteem, and to be sincerely mourned for. This place has not been considered as healthy as some of the mining camps around it. I shall soon visit the different localities of this county and hope to be able in a few days to give some just account of the region about here, its mines and the success with which they are worked. Everything looks well at first sight and the future prosperity of the South Boise is indicated by the enterprise enlisting to work and develop it, evidenced by the fact that three mills are now in operation, as many more being erected and as many more expected to arrive this fall.

TALK ABOUT A LINCOLN MONUMENT.—Soon after the death of President Lincoln an association was founded here called the "Lincoln Monument Association." Its purpose being to collect funds, with which to erect some sort of monument to his memory. Various suggestions were made as to what the monument ought to be. Some proposed a hospital for invalid soldiers, others, a home for the orphan children of soldiers, and still others proposed a Park. The style or class of the memorial has, however, just been set at rest by the Association, resolving to "confine their efforts to the erection of a monument alone, without any connection with other projects, and that its precise form, style and location shall be governed by the amount of funds contributed."

This is sensible, and we can now hope that the memory of our lamented President will be commemorated by a handsome, if not imposing work of art. The necessary funds, I have no doubt will be forthcoming. Indeed there is already several thousand dollars in the treasury of the Association, and with proper energy this can be increased to any reasonable amount. There is not at present, nor was there ever, a monument in Philadelphia like the one contemplated. Indeed we have no "memorial embellishments" outside of our cemeteries. There was one—a bronze statue of William Penn—in front of the Pennsylvania Hospital, but it recently fell over, and for aught I know, has been since melted down, and into patent sadirons. It is time we had a monument, and I trust the one will be erected to the memory of the great and good Abraham Lincoln.—Phila Cor. Bulletin.

THE "OWYHEE AVALANCHE."—We have received the first number of a paper bearing the above name, published at Ruby City, Owyhee, by Wasson & Co. The paper presents a respectable typographical appearance, contains a considerable quantity of reading matter, and furnishes much information about the mines of that region. The Avalanche "is intended to be an independent mining journal," will be neutral in politics and will "publish all news not strictly partisan." It is issued weekly at $10,00 per year.

The Atlanta Intelligencer says that a friend relates to the editor this incident: "Coming," he says, "to Atlanta on Monday last, I saw an old freedwoman lying on the side of the road, dead and two younger ones standing by her remains. I asked what had been the matter with her. The reply from one of the girls was, 'perish to def air but the free dough.'"

The Clarksville (Texas) Standard has a piece of startling intelligence, an account of the slaying of President Johnson in a street brawl by Gener[al] Grant! The paper thinks the event is fraught with something great for the South.

The Virginia chivalry having disgracefully failed in whipping the Yankees have now undertaken something better suited to their capacities. They are trying to cheat the negroes out of their labor.

Some of the Copperhead papers have already ceased calling President Johnson "His Excellency," and now style him "His Accidency."

FALSE DELICACY.—The friends of those who are troubled with bad breath, and through over squeamishness, dislike to refer to it, commit a [illegible] and cruel mistake, especially if they are aware of the merits and great efficacy of the Fragrant Sozodont. This is the true and only remedy for the difficulty; there is no valid excuse for a bad breath now.

A Universal Medicine.—By what we eat, by the air we breathe, or by the water we drink, we can be made sick, because these effects end by producing impurity of blood. To regain health we must purify the blood by the organs of the stomach and bowels; these organs must be continued in the regular performance of that duty which nature has assigned them, and should there be any impediment to what does experience point. The Greatest Iron-Clad in the World Launched.—The great iron-clad frigate Dunderberg was launched at New York on Saturday morning, July 22, in presence of a large concourse of people, estimated at 20,000. At three minutes past 10 the hour of [illegible] There [illegible] was raised, and, true enough, the ponderous mass of wood and iron began to slide down the four broad ways. As soon as she had gathered headway it became apparent there could be no possibility of a failure the people gave vent to their wild enthusiasm, and in the most enthusiastic manner cheered the great ram as she entered the water. It was a gift rarely seen, and only [illegible] appreciated by those who participated in it.

The Dunderberg, on reaching the water, was found to be drawing only fifteen feet aft, thirteen feet amidships and nine feet six inches forward. The draft is much less than many had supposed.

The Dunderberg is an iron-clad frigate of [illegible] tons displacement, and was constructed expressly for sea-going purposes. She has two engines of 5,000 actual horse power, and her contract calls for a speed of fifteen knots an hour in ordinary steaming. Her armament will consist of four 15-inch Rodman and from twelve to fourteen 11-inch Dahlgren guns. The principal dimensions of the hull are as follows: Length, 380 feet 4 inches; beam, 72 feet 10 inches; depth of hold 22 feet seven inches; hight of casemate inside [illegible]; length of ram bow 50 feet. Her draft when ready for sea will be 21 feet; her displacement is 7,000 tons; registered tonnage, 5,000. The war armor will weigh about 1,000 tons. She has six main and two donkey boilers; the main boilers are 13 feet deep, 17 feet 1 inches in length, 21 feet 5 inches front, and together will weigh about 400 tons. The boiler surface is 30,000 feet; the grate surface 1,200 feet. The condensing surface is 12,000 feet square. The engines are horizontal, back action condensing, with two 100-inch cylinders, and 15 inches stroke of piston. The propeller is 21 feet in diameter, and has a varying pitch of from 27 to 30 feet, and weighs 41,580 pounds. The coal bunkers will accommodate 1,000 tons of coal, sufficient for ten to fifteen days steaming.

The Dunderberg was built by W. H. Webb, under the general supervision of Rear Admiral F. H. Gregory, United States Navy.

The plan of the Dunderberg is altogether novel, and the results promised by Webb will make her the greatest sea-going ironclad ram afloat. Her B[illegible] is flat and her sides angular, and her lines are such that she must be very easy in a sea way, so easy, in fact, that in all probability she will be able to use her guns when other vessels would be rolling fearfully.

The casemate which surmounts the hull is pierced for twenty-one guns and is a marvel of strength and roominess. Its sides slope upward at an angle of thirty-five degrees, sufficient, it is believed, to shed shot with ease and certainty. Its sides are over three feet in thickness, covered over with slabs of hammered iron nine feet long, twenty-eight inches wide and four and a half inches in thickness. These slabs are fastened to the wood-work by means of heavy screw bolts, there being no nuts or bolt heads inside to be flying around in action, killing and wounding men.

The peculiar construction of the hull makes her, as it were, two vessels, the space between the inner and outer ship being used as coal bunkers, and at the same time serving as an additional protection to the engine's boilers, and in fact the ship proper. One enormous keel and six kelsons strengthen the ship fore and aft, and aid in sustaining the great weight of the armored casemate and battery. Bulkheads dividing the ship in sections give additional strength and guarantee safety in event of stranding, collision, or ramming by an antagonist.

The ram is a part of the ship itself, and is not bolted or fastened on, as is usually the case, but is an extension of the bow, which for over fifty feet is a solid, firm mass of timber. This is covered over with a heavy wrought iron armor, and forms a beak terrible to look at by an enemy against whom it is directed. Driven at a high rate of speed, this formidable instrument would pierce through the strongest known ship in existence.

The armor on the side of the vessel is three and a half inches thick, and placed vertically on slabs from twelve to [illegible] feet in length and three feet wide, screw bolted.

The pilot-house, [illegible] of iron, [illegible] upon the forward part of the casemate, and is six feet in diameter, seven feet high, and ten inches in thickness, and is pierced with loop-holes commanding a view of the entire horizon.

The propeller and two rudders are protected by a shell which extends out aft, firmly braced and secured to the stern and sides. She has one rudder, common to all ships, and a spare one located above and forward of the huge propeller, so that in case the main propeller is damaged the spare one can be put instantly in use.

The Dunderberg is brig rigged, and is provided with huge anchors and chains, and a new windlass of great power and speed.

The boilers and engines will cost over half a million of dollars.

The ship will be fitted out for sea as soon as possible.

General Grant.—This officer having been toasted at the late banquet given to General Sherman in St. Louis, Judge Moody, in responding for him, said:

General Grant, if here, would be the proper respondent to this sentiment. He is not here, and, as he never makes speeches, and thinks he cannot, you have very properly [illegible] the least [illegible] of all [illegible] to take his place. Of the military career of Gen. Grant, from his graduation at West Point to the end of the Mexican war, and again, from his entrance into the army in May, 1861, to the surrender of Lee and his army, I have nothing to say. I speak not of his achievements from Belmont to Petersburg. Of them let history and military critics speak. The true verdict of enlightened history will pronounce him the great Captain of the age. In this war I have never aspired to or attained, any position higher than that of a big private. It would, therefore, be presumptuous in me to either praise or blame the Lieutenant-General of all the army of the Union.

I [illegible] of General Grant [illegible] An [illegible] to [illegible] this [illegible] We were both poor, struggling for a livelihood, and no interest in the rise and fall of [illegible] we had no railroad shares nor [illegible] and money to borrow; market was often our chief subject of inquiry. I knew him when he hauled wood to St. Louis on the Gravois road, and later, with impaired health, he sought [illegible] a county office; but the wise County Court would not see his merits. They appointed in his stead another man, long since forgotten.

Three weeks ago I had an opportunity to call on the General at his beautiful home in Georgetown Hights, and I declare to you now I can see no difference in the manners of the man now and when I first knew him. No fussy body guard on "bay horses," no obsequious orderlies, no white aproned lackeys follow him, and his three stars never get above the horizon except when duty requires them to appear.

In General Grant the nation has a military leader whom it need not fear to trust with power. He is modest and unassuming to a fault; of incorruptible integrity and ardent love of country; jealous of the military power and obedient to the civil; devoted to present duty, whatever that duty may be; plain and simple in his tastes and manners, not desiring but studiously avoiding, political popularity; a faithful and devoted husband, fond father and affectionate son. His great heart is free from that master passion of little souls—personal vindictiveness.

Southern Cheek.—The amount of cheek exhibited by some of the Virginia rebels in and about Richmond is amazing as well as amusing. Ex-Governor Wise is there and wants to occupy his homestead, and have his civil rights restored so that he can run for loyal Governor. The other day the Chief Quartermaster paid off a loyal man for a lot of wood cut from his plantation for [illegible] Davis, which fell into the hands of the Federals. Thereupon the fellow who made the contract with the rebel government for cutting and hauling the wood sent in his bill for the work. It was returned to him indorsed "not paid." But the climax has been capped by the owner of Libby Prison, who has sent in his bill for rent of that sweet institution from April 14, 1865. We suppose the next thing we shall hear will be that a bill has been sent in for payment from the United States Treasury for the land on which the Union soldiers starved to death at Salisbury and Andersonville are buried.—Cin. Commercial.

One of the Smiths.—It is said that among the applicants for a pardon is the notorious rebel General Gustavus W. Smith, ex-Street Commissioner of New York. The Boston Traveler says of this fellow that he is a native of Kentucky, and that in the Mexican war he was Captain of a company of sappers and miners, of which Gen. McClellan was Lieutenant. At the close of that war, Smith recruited a company of sappers and miners in Boston, but the command having been given to McClellan he quitted the army in disgust. The career of the penitent rebel in this city as a Democratic politician is well known. It earned for him the lucrative position of Street Commissioner, from the duties of which he absconded to join the rebels, taking with him all the funds of the office.

Speech of Gen. Kilpatrick—Hostile to Copperheads.—The Newark Courier gives the following report of the speech delivered by Gen. Kilpatrick on taking the chair as temporary President of the Union State Convention at Trenton:

Gentlemen and fellow-citizens of my native State: I truly appreciate the great honor you have conferred upon me, an humble soldier from New Jersey, in electing me to preside over the only loyal convention that will be called in the State for the nomination of a candidate for Governor. [Loud and continued applause.] It is scarcely necessary for me to say that this distinction is unexpected and almost overwhelming, and in accepting it I do not intend to make any extended remarks. I should as soon think of talking war to the great soldier, General Grant, [tremendous applause] as to talk politics to all this vast concourse of politicians [laughter and applause], men who are not only my seniors in wisdom but in years, and who have made politics the study of their lives. Yet I do desire to say that I accepted an invitation to meet with you here to-day in order that there may be no misunderstanding as to how I intend to conduct myself in the future, and to show how I think a soldier ought to conduct himself now the war is over, when patriotism demands his service or influence. To show to Union men and to Copperheads the latter how he condemns their traitorous acts, which have disgraced my native State for the past four years. I am here feeling I am among men who never spoke a word of disloyalty, and who never faltered, and to represent men who have remained firm during the dark hours of [illegible] upon and who have prayed, fought and bled for our country, led by that great and good man, Abraham Lincoln. [Immense and long continued applause.]

You have assembled here to-day, my friends, under no ordinary circumstances, and I trust with good promise of success in redeeming the fame of our State. I tell you, wherever I go—to New York, Philadelphia, Washington, while traveling in the cars—everywhere I hear language in reference to New Jersey which fills my whole soul with disgust and hatred to those who have disgraced my native State; and how it is possible for any of its citizens to join hands with traitors is beyond my comprehension. Fellow-citizens, I have been [illegible] from the course of military men in taking the stand I have, but I have been more excited since I have been in New Jersey over what I have heard said than I was during any of the scenes through which I have passed during the war. Do you know that I have heard men here say that it would have been better to let the South go; that they believe in State rights; that the martyred President was a tyrant, and his successor, Andrew Johnson, is a second Nero? There are men in Sussex, with much zeal but very little brains, who rejoice that they voted for John C. Breckinridge once, and say, "by thunder they would do it again if they had an opportunity!" Not satisfied with the sacrifices, expenses and all the calamities of the war, they now tell you that President Johnson is a murderer for approving the sentence of the assassins of the President. The Copperhead editors are equally guilty with Southern rebels. [He referred especially to an article in the Newton Herald, which he denounced with peculiar sarcasm, and thought the whole batch of such traitors should be hung on the same tree with Jeff. Davis.]

The National Lincoln Monument Association.—Gov. Oglesby has issued an address in behalf of the Lincoln Monument Association, which closes thus:

We have obtained from the city of Springfield a deed to about four acres of beautiful ground, on which Mr. Lincoln now is buried, near the city of Springfield, adjoining Oak Ridge Cemetery, accessible at all seasons of the year, with such advantages as to make it in time one of the most enchanting and lovely spots upon earth. There is a perfect agreement between the Association and Mrs. Lincoln and the family of the late President as to the location of the grounds, and the special place where his remains are to finally lie. We shall, in a short time, prepare the vault for his final resting place, and, as soon as the subscription shall have reached a sum to justify something like a correct estimate, we shall decide and make the necessary preliminary arrangements for beginning the monument. We have now in the hands of our Treasurer over $30,000. As fast as contributions are received, they are, by order of the Board of Directors, invested in interest-bearing Government securities. It is our intention, at the proper time, to consult the best taste and talent in the country as to what shall be the material for the monument, what shall be its size, form, construction and cost; but we desire above all things, first, to secure such a sum of money as shall justify us in erecting, if possible, a monument which, in every respect, shall fitly and appropriately illustrate and perpetuate the life, character and virtues of Mr. Lincoln, while both our national taste and wealth shall be represented by it. James H. Beveridge, State Treasurer, is the Treasurer of our association, to whom all contributions, donations and subscriptions are to be forwarded and communications on the subject addressed.

Letters Remaining Unclaimed in the Post Office at Portland, State of Oregon, September 1, 1865. To obtain any of these, the applicant must call for advertised letters, give the date of this list, and pay one cent for advertising.

If not called for within one month, they will be sent to the Dead Letter Office.

Free delivery of letters by carriers at the residences of owners may be secured by observing the following rules:

1. Direct letters plainly to the street and number, as well as the post office and State.
2. Head letters with the writer's post office and State, street and number, sign them plainly with full name, and request that answers be sent accordingly.
3. Letters to strangers or transient visitors in a town or city, whose special address may be unknown, should be marked in the lower left hand corner with the word "Transient."
4. Place the postage stamp on the upper right-hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and direction for post marking without interfering with the writing.

N. B.—A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if unclaimed within thirty days or less, written or printed with the writer's name, post-office and State across the left hand end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with at the usual prepaid rate of postage, payable when the letter is delivered to the writer.—Sec. 28, Law of 1863.

Ordinance No. 241.

AN ORDINANCE to provide for the Taxing and Killing of Dogs.

The City of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1. After the first day of September, 1865, no dog shall be permitted to go abroad in any of the streets, squares, lanes, alleys or public places of this city without having a collar of leather or metal secured around its neck, with a number stamped from metal or engraved thereon.

Sec. 2. The owner or person having in charge any dog permitted to run at large within the city limits, shall on or before the first day of August of each year pay into the City Treasury the sum of six ($6) dollars in gold or silver coin for each and every dog, which shall entitle him to a receipt from the Treasurer designating the owner's name and the number of the license, which number shall correspond with that worn by the dog.

Sec. 3. The Treasurer shall keep a suitable record of the licenses granted and at the expiration of the annual time for issuing licenses shall give to the City Marshal a list of the numbers on which licenses have been paid or renewed, and of the numbers which have not been renewed, and the names of owners or representatives of dogs bearing such unrenewed numbers.

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of the City Marshal or of some person authorized by him, to seize, kill and properly bury in some suitable place outside the city limits any and all dogs found running at large in violation of section one of this Ordinance, also any and all dogs wearing collars running at large on which the owner or representative has failed to pay or renew the license; Provided, That when a dog wearing a collar has been taken up the Marshal shall notify the owner or representative thereof who may thereupon recover possession upon payment of the license to the Treasurer and a fee of two dollars in gold to the Marshal.

Sec. 5. No slut or female dog in time of heat, no habitually vicious dog or mad dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits and it shall be lawful for any person to kill any such dog running at large, whether wearing a collar duly numbered or not, and the owner or person permitting any such dog to run at large shall upon conviction thereof be liable to a fine of not less than twenty five nor more than fifty dollars.

Sec. 6. Any person or inhabitant of this city permitting any dog of which he is the owner or keeper to go abroad in any of the streets, squares, lanes, alleys or public places of this city, without having first paid the license required by this Ordinance and having the number thereof stamped or engraved upon a collar upon such dog as herein before provided, or who shall suffer or cause a collar and number to be put upon any dog with intent to avoid payment of license, shall upon conviction before the Recorder be subject to a fine of not less than ten (10) nor more than fifty (50) dollars.

Sec. 7. The City Marshal shall receive the sum of two dollars for each dog seized, killed and buried as provided in section 4, to be paid by the City, [illegible] for violation of this Ordinance.

Sec. 8. No person or persons shall hinder or molest any person or persons who may be engaged in seizing, killing or removing the carcass of any dog in conformity with this Ordinance, under the penalty of a fine of twenty dollars for each offense.

Sec. 9. It shall be the duty of the City Marshal to prosecute for all violations of this Ordinance, and he is to receive the sum of three (3) dollars as [illegible] against the defendant upon every conviction of a violation of this Ordinance in which he or his deputies shall have made complaint.

Sec. 10. The annual time for issuing licenses shall be the time which shall intervene from and after the first day of August and no license shall be issued for any less time [illegible] quarters. Provided, That the payment of the (6) dollars shall [illegible] before the first day of September, 1865, [illegible] August 1866.

Sec. 11. All Ordinances or parts of Ordinances in conflict with this Ordinance are hereby repealed.

Passed the Common Council August [illegible] 1865.

Attest: H. R. MEEKER, Auditor and Clerk.

Approved August [illegible] 1865.

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS,

Gravel, Dropsical Swellings,

GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS ATtended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact it is unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above mentioned, and also—

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY,
LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every disease in any way connected with the disorder or decay of the PROCREATIVE FUNCTIONS. Persons about to marry, if conscious of any weakness, should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once rebraced, revivified, and built up. Well may this celebrated medicine be called the

MEDICAL WONDER.

The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man; he stands erect, he moves with a firm step; his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom or an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active, and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor.—The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition.

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER,
INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS, AND
CATARRH OF THE BLADDER,
STRANGUARY AND BURNING, OR PAINFUL
URINATING,
CALCULUS, GRAVEL,
BRICK DUST DEPOSIT, AND MUCOUS
OR MILKY DISCHARGES AFTER URINATING.

For those diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. TRY IT in those cases, and you will ever give praise to

CONSTITUTION WATER.

Males or Females,

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back, and through your hips? CONSTITUTION WATER will relieve you like magic.

ALLEN'S

LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

With the Compound Concentrated Fluid Extract of Lungwort, Augustura Root, Alecom Root, Blood Root, Cancer Root, Fever Root, Canker Weed, Consumption Plant, Gravel Plant, Life Root, Liverwort, Nervine Root, Pleurisy Root, Sassafras Root, Scurvy Grass Root, Scrofula Plant, Rattlesnake Root, Squaw Root, Wa-a-hoo Bark, Wintergreen, the whole scientifically prepared, and containing the full virtue of all the ingredients united in an elegant Syrup, that possesses a wonderful power in the cure of diseases.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis, Agitans.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stomach, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Struma, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

Rheumatism.

(Arthritis), Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux.

Nervous.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely of all the evil effects of Mercury, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens the Gums and secures the teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

Ulcers, Pimples, Blotches,

And all other difficulties of the kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, and often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

Constitution Life Syrup

CURES ALL SWELLING OF THE GLANDS, either of the Face, Neck, or Female Organs.

As a general Blood-Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup stands unrivalled by any preparation in the world.

Constitution Life Syrup.

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing. Buy it, take it, and be cured. It is universal in its effects.
